Washington July 12th 1829.

My dear Sir,

Your letter of the 3^d Instant addressed to Genl Jackson, has been received, and the Genl has requested me to present his respects to you, and say that we all reached this place on yesterday in pretty good health with the exception of slight colds taken on board the Steam Boat.

It is highly gratifying to us all to learn that you, with the other members of the Cincinnati Committee, reached home in health and safety, and I hope you and they found your friends also well. Upon the whole we had a pretty comfortable trip from Pittsburgh to this place - It is true the weather was rather cold, but we found the roads much better than I had expected. We had no falling weather except the day we left Pittsburgh, until ~~until~~ we reached this place.

There is nothing here worth communicating, that you do not get thro the medium of the public prints.

With my best wishes for your health and happiness, I am your
